Hear the best new music and join us for a day festival of performances, installations, talks and unexpected discoveries.

The New Music Show is the London Sinfonietta's platform for new music from the very best emerging talent from the UK and abroad. Listen to the familiar and the downright strange, be swept away and feel invigorated.

HIDDEN

A series of intimate solo performances in hidden spaces...

Four composers have created new short solo works. These will be performed in backstage spaces, not usually open to the public, dressed and curated by students from Central Saint Martins College of Arts and Design.

Sign up on the day to book your space on the Hidden tour.
